

Siobhan Dolan, M.D., M.P.H.

*Vice chair, research, and professor, obstetrics & gynecology and women's health
Albert Einstein College of Medicine and Montefiore Health System*

Dr. Siobhan Dolan is board certified in obstetrics and gynecology and in clinical genetics. She graduated magna cum laude with honors from Brown University and received her medical degree from Harvard Medical School. Dr. Dolan did her residency training in obstetrics and gynecology at the New York Hospital–Cornell Medical Center and Yale New Haven Hospital, then completed her fellowship training in clinical genetics at Albert Einstein College of Medicine. She received a master's degree in public health from the epidemiology division of the Columbia University Mailman School of Public Health.

She maintains her clinical practice in the Bronx and also provides genetics care in the division of reproductive genetics at Montefiore Health System. Dr. Dolan currently serves as a consultant to the March of Dimes in the office of the medical director and is on the faculty of the Human Genetics Program at Sarah Lawrence College in Bronxville, NY, where she teaches public health genetics and genomics.