CAREER CORNER: In celebration of National Postdoctoral Appreciation Week (NPAW), the CPD welcomed executive coach, Donna Sweidan, who explained how scientists can leverage LinkedIn for career success. In addition, seminar attendees took advantage of free professional headshots and on-the-spot reviews of their LinkedIn profiles. Happy NPAW!

UPCOMING EVENTS!

The CPD continues to develop original programming. Check out the upcoming events for November and December. This month brings the first in a new series from the CPD, in partnership with the Office of Faculty Development. On November 12th, we launch the Driving Your Career! series of professional development programs for Einstein PhDs and Postdocs. This series is designed to provide real-world skills, practical resources, and well-rounded knowledge beyond the technical focus of research to help Einstein trainees successfully transition to a satisfying career in any area. Our inaugural event will be about effective communications, but expect additional programming throughout the year about networking, leading with emotional intelligence, and more!

November 12: Effective Communications. Improve the quality of your relationships and learn to communicate with understanding (Driving Your Career Series)

Lubin Dining Hall | 4-5:30pm | RSVP HERE

Join us for this totally interactive workshop and WINE & CHEESE. You will leave knowing more about yourself and your communication style, about how to recognize the communication styles of others, and you will leave with usable suggestions and information to help you improve your communication - in your lab, in your relationships, in your life. Reserve your spot today!

November 28: How to Prepare for the Best Postdoc
Forchheimer 5th Floor Lecture Hall | 4:30-6pm | RSVP Here

Dr. Arne Gennerich shares information about how to prepare for and pick the best postdoc for you, including how and why a 2nd postdoc might be right for you. Part of the Academic Job Hunt Series.

December 5: Einstein Talks! SciCafe
Lubin Dining Hall | 5-7pm | RSVP COMING SOON

Join us for the inaugural Einstein Talks! event. The Einstein Talks! SciCafe event series includes talks and presentations by Einstein students, postdocs and faculty members for undergraduate college students from the surrounding Bronx community. Following the presentation, there will be food and drinks, informal networking and discussions.

December 6: Money Talk$: Managing Your Money 5:30pm-7:00pm
Price Center 351 | 5:30-7pm | RSVP HERE

Magdalena G. Johndrow from Johndrow Wealth Management returns to campus to share her knowledge about how to manage your money. Join us for this imperative life skills seminar!

December 11: Resume/CV Bootcamp
Price Center 251 | 4:00-5:30pm | RSVP HERE

Learn how to put together a strategic resume or CV! If you already have a CV or resume, hear about ways to make your information stand out. If you don't have a CV or resume, what are you waiting for?

December 18: Resume Clinic
Belfer 207 | 2:00pm-3:00pm | RSVP HERE

The CPD invites you to participate in a Resume Clinic. You will need to bring a hard-copy (yes, print it out...yes on paper!) of your resume and come ready to work.

December 18: CV Clinic
